Housing Supervisor

FamilyAid Boston, the city’s largest human service agency solely focused on ending childhood and family homelessness, is seeking a Housing Supervisor to support the agency’s deepening services to more than 1,000 children. The Supervisor will serve in a leadership role on a team whose goal is to support homeless families in shelter and assist in transition to permanent housing.

The Supervisor will provide program leadership and supervision to a team of housing placement specialists whose primary focus is to support homeless families in shelter and assist in transition to permanent housing. In addition to hiring, supervising and evaluating housing specialists, the supervisor works with the Housing Program Manager, Director and other program leadership to ensure successful implementation of agency, state, and program policies and practices and services to current and formerly homeless parents and their children. This position will focus on supporting the Community Based Shelter housing search team, but responsibilities may expand or extend to other programs to meet the needs of a growing organization.

The successful candidate will have a, Bachelor’s degree or Master’s degree in related field preferred, bicultural background, 3-5 years professional social work and managerial experience required, and demonstrated success in affordable housing search and placement. English and Spanish preferred. Ability to work in both office and field-based settings with a diverse, homeless population. Flexibility and compassion essential.

With a mission to empower parents facing homelessness to secure and sustain housing and build foundations for their children’s futures, FamilyAid is on a fast track to curb the region’s growing homelessness crisis. Its nationally recognized homelessness prevention, diversion, emergency shelter, and supportive affordable housing programs serve more than 2,000 children and parents each year. Under new executive leadership, the hundred-plus year-old agency has launched bold new strategies to reduce two-generation homelessness by dramatically increasing its prevention, housing and supportive services for children, putting the organization on a fast-growth trajectory.

FamilyAid Boston is dynamic, friendly, and diverse where results, professional growth and work/life balance are valued. We offer competitive salaries, contribute to employees’ health, dental and retirement plans, and provide generous paid time off. The agency is committed to a policy of equal employment opportunity without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, disability, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, or age.

Interested applicants should send a cover letter and resume to hr@familyaidboston.org. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis.
